Holden. Major Cady, the Commandant of Governor's Island, attended Governor Floyd and suite through the inspection. After reviewing the troops in line and inspecting them by compa-nies, the Secretary visited in succession the Hospital, and the music boys' quarters at the South Battery, where about one hundred boys were assem. bled, closely inspecting their mess room, kitchen and achool room. From thence he proceeded to Fort Columbus, the principal fortification on the island. In this fort the quarters of the rank and file, the band, and a portion of the officers' quarters are situated. The rooms of the men-in each of which twenty-two are quartered-were exceedingly clean and neat. The men were drawn up round the rooms, each one beside his own iron bedstead and as the Secretray entered all came to an "attention" and removed their hats. In this way every room was visited, including the library, where a goodly array of books and newspapers testified to the care bestowed upon the intellectual comforts of the garrison. Captain Jones assured the Governor that a large attendance of the men in the library was quite common, and that they were permitted to take some of the books to their quarters to read at leisure. Every room is under the supervision of a sergeant, who answered all the questions put to him regarding the comforts of the men under his charge-The kitchens and mess rooms of the soldiers receiv ed a careful scrutiny by the Secretary. He looked into the soup boilers and examined the ovens. The quality of the soup, which was in course of preparation, was good and nutritious; and the bread was as sweet, light, and fine as any one need wish to eat, and so Gov. Floyd pronounced it. A ration of pork-which, to judge from its appetising odor, must be very palatable-with plenty of vegetables, bread and bean soup, is served out to each man for dinner. Four es a week fresh beef is supplied in place of pork The Secretary put several questions to the cooks and bakers relative to the quality of the articles under their hands, as well as minutely examining the same, and seemed quite satisfied that the men were well taken care of. The Governor then paid a brief visit to the officers quarters, where he partook of a slight refreshment and proceeded to inspect the armament of Fort Co-lumbus, a four bastioned field work, with ditch and counterscarp, and a covered way leading to the old fort called Castle William, the most conspicuous for tification on the island.

Castle William, better known to our citizens as "The Fort," standing on the corner of the islandfacing the Battery, the ugliest looking structure, externally perhaps, in the world-from the wretched teste displayed in coloring it a dingy yellow-was built in 1807. It is, however, a strong defence, com. manding the bay completely.

It mounts 78 guns. On the lower tier the guns are 14 pounders; on the second tier 34 pounders; and on top 24 pounders. The third tier is occupied now as soldiers' quarters. Gov. Floyd, upon surveying the extent of water absolutely commanded by the guns of this fort, remarked that its value as a defence was at once obvious; but he thought that some improvements might be made in its construction. Gen. Totten said that a much more effective fort could be constructed now for the same sum which Castle William cost at the time it was crected, and mentioned several improvements contemplated in the guns which were about to be mounted on the top of the fort.

After inspecting this fortification the duties of the day were concluded, when the Governor, and the large staff of officers who accompanied him, proceeded to the quarters of the commandant, Majo Cady. The day was exceedingly unpropitious, the rain falling heavily and continuously. In conse quence of this, as well as the length of time occupied in inspecting the works on Governor's Island, the Secretary's visit to Bedloe's Island was postponed till to-mornow. All the arrangements, hether of the fortifications, the barracks, or the discipline on Governor's Island, seem complete, and reflect much credit on the commandant and the officers under his command. The Secretary of War appeared to view the whole with much satisfaction Our reporter avails himself gladly of the opportunity to express his full sense of the courtesy and kindness of the officers of the garrison, which were extended to him throughout the day.

Bedloe's Island and Fort Schuyler remain yet to be visited, when it is presumable Governor Floyd's city will be completed.

Court of General Sections Before Recorder Smith.

ONE BUNDRED AND TWENTY-PIVE INDICTMENTS AGAINST BUNDAY LIQUOR SELLERS QUASHED.

Oct. 24-When the Court was organized this morning a number of prisoners were arraigned for ples, among whom was James Mc Alpine alias Lieu tenant Colonel Marmaduke Reeves, charged with obtaining money from the Accesory Transit Company by false pretences in February last. He pleaded not guity, and was remanded for trial. James Rodgers, indicted yesterday by the Grand Jury for the murder of John Swanston in the Tenth avenue, was also placed at the bar and asked whether he was guilty or not guilty of the charge. Rodgers muttered out some words which were not heard distinctly at the reporter's table. He was understood to say, "I don't know; I was drunk at the time."

The Becarder requested, a member of the bar to the heart.

The Recorder requested a member of the bar to take Redgers aside and advise him of his legal rights. Redgers said that he supposed his friends would provide counsel for him before the day of trial. The Court assigned George D. Keilog as his counsel, who entered a plea of "not guilty."

James Nugent pleaded guilty to stealing a boat, and was sent to the penitentiary for six months.

Richard Rikeman pleaded guilty to stealing two sails. Penitentiary three months.

Richard Rikeman pleaded guilty to stealing two sails. Penitentary three months.

MOTION TO QUASH INDICTNENTS AGAINST SUNDAY

Theodore B. Tomilinson appeared as counsel for the Liquor Dealers' Association, and moved to quash 125 indictments found by the present Grand Jury against liquor sellers for an alleged violation of the Sunday Liquor law. He said it was unnecessary for him to discuss the subject, as the propositions involved were plain and obvious, and Judges Harris and Wright, of the Supreme Court, coincided with his Honer's previous decision in the matter.

The Recorder irquired if the form of the indictment was the same as that upon which his previous decision had been rendered.

The Assistant District Attorney—Yes, sir. He said that Mr. Hall, the District Attorney, was compelled to leave town last evening, and requested him to attend to the matter. He inferred from the notice of motion served upon him by Mr. Tomilinson, that it would be made on the same points as were presented on the argument before Judge Russell. This motion was in the discretion of the Court, and as that was the case, the District Attorney wished to suggest that, as he was awaiting a decision of the Eupreme Court on a certiorari, the Recorder would lay over this motion until that decision was rendered, first as a matter of expediency, and secondly sea matter of comity and respect to his brother Judge.

Recorder Smith said that in the first charge he delivered to the Grand Jury after the passage of the excise law he stated that under that law they had no right to find indictments unless the question had first been submitted to a magistrate. Knowing that this was an important question, and that it would necessarily come before him, he examined the law very carefully, and understanding the the statute so clearly se he did, he considered it his duty to expressly state to the Grand Jury that they had no right to initiate the proceedings under that act. The office the Grand Jury that they had not the first bearing the processory for him t portunity which presented itself to release these parties from those indictments. Every time they appeared in this count they were subjected to costs and expense, which, in his view of the law, they should not be subjected to, and a substantial right given to them by this act was denied. An accused party could go before a magistrate and be tried at much less expense than he could in the Court of Sessious. This right the state guarantied to him, and the Grand Jury had no right to deprive him of it. He regretted that there was any difference of opinion between him and his associate on this subject; but he did not feel justified in holding 150 people for trial when the indictments were found against his express direction, and where the Supreme Court sustained his views. The indictments, said his Honor, in this case must be quashed, and the Clerk will enter an order to that effect.

The Clerk did so, and the Court adjourned for the term.

LE PROPHETE DES ALPES AVENEMENT DES PRUPLES BT RENOVATION DU MONDE LONDRES. Longman, Brown, Green et Longmans.

This is a curious book, and if de Lammenais were not dead might, with some color, be attributed to him. It is the realization upon paper of the politi-cal millenium of the Red Republicans—the full complement of the startling theories enunciated through the terse predictions of the Paroles d'un Croyant. The Alpine oracle not only foretells the utter subversion of all existing political systems, but announces an entirely new territorial di-vision of the earth under a nomenclature ready cut and dry. North America is to be divided into four great provinces-Mexiconia, Washingtonia, Canadia and Oregonia. Under the general title of Columbia, South America is to be subdivided into the provinces of Bolivia, Brazilia. Platesia and Peruvia. For the comfort and encouragement of our filibusters be it known that the province of Washingtonia is to embrace the island of Jamaica, the island of Cuba, the Bahamas, and all the other West India islands. The twenty-four provinces into which the globe is thus to be divided will comprise the whole human family, of which the Pantopo. lis or the new Jerusalem, seated on the Bosphorus, is to be the patriarchal centre. "Then," according to our oracle, "all the nations of the earth, awakened to sentiments of justice by the fecund aspirations of this new life, will make but one family of brethren. indissolubly united by the powerful bonds of unity, liberty and fraternity, strengthened by faith, hope and charity, and universally fructified by art, science and industry."

MEADOW BROOK, a novel. By Mrs. Mary J. Holmes Miller, Orton & Co.

This is a simple but prettily written American tale, with a good moral naturally worked out-Mrs. Holmes belongs to a class of writers who deserve to be encouraged, as their aim is to improve and form the mind of youth rather than to deteriorate it by familiarizing it with pictures of society under its worst aspect.

THE PRACTICAL HOUSEKEEPER: A Cyclopedia of Domestic Economy. By Mrs. Ellett. stringer and Townsend.

If we are a people extravagant in our habits, as existing circumstances would tend to prove, it is not for the want of warning and teaching. Of financial mentors our men have enough; of economical treatises on housekeeping our women have more than sufficient. The French, who have made of cooking a science, have never published half the cookery books which have issued from our press. As too much cooking proverbially spoils the broth, the more we are taught the worse cooks we seem to become. The cooking at our hotels is, as a general thing, detestable, and in our private houses we have abandoned the simple and wholesome modes of our forefathers for a bad imitation of the French cuisine Mrs. Ellett's work will not, we fear, mend the matter, inasmuch as it appears to be an olla podrida of different methods. ADVENTURES OF A GENTLEMAN IN SEARCH OF A

Horan. By Sir George Stephens. J. W. Moore, Philadelphia.

This reprint of Sir George Stephens' clever little work will be useful to novices in the care of horses. It scarcely deserves the name of a scientific treatise, but it nevertheless affords sufficient insight into the anatomical structure of the horse to enable the reader to appreciate the value of the advice which it contains as to its pathological treatment. THE FISHER BOY: A Tale. Boston, 1857.

Report speaks highly of a new tale just published in Boston under this title. It is said to be of rare merit, depicting truthfully, but with touching and fascinating power, a phase of New England life never before presented to the public. We notice that it is receiving the encomiums of the entire Boston press; but not having as yet received a copy of it, we can only speak from the impressions of others.

NEW WORKS IN THE PRESS. Derby & Jackson have in the press, and will publish early in the autumn, "The Life of Thomas Jefferson," on which Dr. Randall has been so long engaged. One-third of the work will be compose of original materials and facts derived from private papers in the possession of Mr. Jefferson's family, it will also be illustrated by portraits and face similes never before published.

In running down the Kennebec the Gallatin struck, but was got off without sustaining any apparent injury, and anchored afterwards in Parker's Flats to complete some unfinished work in that section; in getting through with it she sailed for Portland, where she has been for the last arree or four days. Examplement Ball Practice.—Last evening, about 4 o'clock, every person in the dry goods establishment of Mosses. Stewart & Co., corner of Broadway and Cham-bers street, were stanied by the sharp crack of a pistol panes of glass forming a portion of one of the windows of the store. The bullet was evidently fired from the Park across Chambers street, because it was one of the lower windows fronting Chambers street that was struck by it The pane that it first struck is an inch in thickness, and so exactly did the builet pass through it that one exact round hote was formed in the giase, which, considered ab-stractedly, would remind one of the bore of one of the stractedry, would remind one of the bore of one of the barrels of a revolver. Strange to say, that when an examination took place there was acarcely a flaw in the glass of the window. After passing the first obstacle the bullet next struck one of the large panes of an inside door, fracturing it much more than the pane of the window, but it was a revtuent thirg that this second obstacle was presented, because it provested the bail from entering the store, where it is possible it might have doned damage of a much more serious nature, teare being at the time a large rumber of persons within the ste o, many probably in the course of the bullet. No trace of the pors in who discharged the weapon, which appears to have been a revolver, could be found.

ing a fire broke out in a stable belonging to John Cody, situated in Youth avenue, between Thirty fourth and Thirty fifth streets. The stables were destroyed and two Thirty-fifth streets. The stables were destroyed and two horses belonging to Mr. Cody's stable to death. The flames spread from Mr. Cody's stable to Mr. Patrick Doyle's adjoining, and burned that down, together with the stable cooraged by Mr. Joseph Pollock. The flames also caught the gable and of a three story frame house owned and occupied by Charles S. McGrea ty, causing a damage of about $500. The loss on the house is covered by an invarance of $1,000. Mr. Cody's loss amounts to $170, and Mr. Doyle's loss to about $160. No insurance. The origin of the fire is at present somewhat mysterious. The Fire Marshal has it under investigation.

The Ponteffact race course is one of the been in the kingdom, being nearly two miles round, perfectly free frum objectionable turns, and of great width in every part. It is of most excellent turn, and attended close to the town, with a substantial grand stand, which of late years has undergene considerable repairs, so that the committee co all in their power to most the views of the racing community. The answer of most the views of the racing community. The answer of saided mence is on the most liberal scale, close upon 500 soversigns for the two days. We are sorty to say that the mosting this year has not been a successful one, although the added money had been increased in so or three instances and the meeting had been placed under very able management. The stand was their stated on both days, but has show of company on the course was immesse, expectally on the first tay.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY, Oct. 24-6 P. M. The stock market was rather irregular to day, but the tendency is downward. There was no activity at the board, and the time sales are seidom over ten days. At the first board to-day New York Central 6's declined | per cent; Pacific Steamship Company, 3; Michigan Southern, old, 24; do. preferred, 3; Panama-1; Galena and Chicago, 4; Chicago and Rock Island, 1. Virginia 6's advanced 1 per cent; Illinois Central bonds, 1; Reading, 2; Erie, 4. Missouri State 6's closed at yesterday's prices. There were several short sales, seller thirty days. New York Central Railroad opened at 58 and closed at 59 per cent, cash' with sales in the meantime at 572 per cent. Illinois Central Railroad open d at 75 and closed at 77 per cent. Michigan Southern, old stock, appears to be sinking rapidly out of sight. A small lot sold at 6 per cent to-day.

At the second board the market was without material a teration. Prices were well sustained, with a very limited amount of business. New York Cen ral Railroad 6's declined I per cent; Reading Rail. road, 44; Delaware and Hudson, 1. Chicago and Rock Island advanced & per cent; New York Central, 1; Cleveland and Toledo, 1.

The Assistant Treasurer reports to-day as fol. lows:-Total receipts $02 102 76
Total payments $68 999 61
Total balance $,886,200 67

The receipts from customs to-day amount to $21,000. The Superintendent of the Banking Department gives notice that he has converted the securities or the Island City Bank of this city into money, and its cir. ulating notes will now be redeemed on presentation at the Manhattan Bank in this city. The notes of the Lee Bank, Massachusetts, are now taken at the Metropolitan Bank on the same terms as other Eastern money.

We understand that the amount of State currency for which the Metropolitan Bank has issued certificotes, amounts at present to about three millions of dollars.

The statement of the Providence banks for the week ending Oct. 19, shows the following figures:-Capital, $14,508,000; circulation, $1,978,139; deposits, $2,004,747; due other banks, $1,181,545; loans. $18,505,840; specie, $335,593; bills of other banks, $679,775; deposits in other banks, $972,569 Compared with hat week the returns show

An increase in leans of $162,000
An increase of pects of 1,652
A decrease in circulation of 71,473
A decrease in deposits of 48,001
A decrease of bulls due to other banks of 44,844 A decrease of bills of other backs of 39,718 A decrease in deposits of other backs of 82,100 Says the Journal :-

Says the Journal:

This is a strong statement, and shows that our banks are in an excellent condition. The heaviest demands upon them are still for the renewal of acceptances due abroad. It is unpleasant that the bills of banks presenting such a statement as we put lish this morning, with $3,500,000 liabilities to the public against over $18,800,000 assets; butles, too, in the greater number of which the private property of the stockholders is holden for the circulation, should be kept below a less secure currency in debtor clitics, for no other reason than the accommodation that our banks have extended to them. But we do not see how this is to be avoided at present.

A report from the Board of Directors of the Connecticut Elver and, Pasumpsic Railroad Company was submitted to the recent meeting of stockholders of which the following is an abstract:-

841,848 24

Total 1857 78,166 99
Expenses from Dec 1, 1856, to June 1, 1857 78,166 99
Expenses from Dec. 1, 1856, to June 1, 1857 72 48,744 27 - 29,422 62

The gross amount of taxes collected in North Carolina for 1856 was $380,437 49, and for 1857, $490,168 34. To this is to be added the tax on bank stock, which in 1856 was $14,182 33, and in 1857. $33,988 75. The total gross income from taxes was, therefore, for 1856, $394,619 83, and for 1857, $525, 09, showing a difference in favor of 1967 of

The Dry Goods Turds

Business at wholeasis being very light, resert has been hat very generally to retail sales at a reduction below the wholeasis prices for cash. Credits are now refused, and busit er at a contracted to a cash basis. On these terms for goods are cell. At another nothing can be done. Large quantities of imported goods are being returned to Europe. The resert to renewals of notes and general extensions is become an epidemic Transactions of this kind have taken place in prevale. Bank officers inform us that most of their bills receivable as they fall due are mat by renewals and re discounts, and could not otherwise be good. There is a general disposition on the part of the creditors to case their debtors, whom it is not their interest to let go down if possible. The quantity of goods on hand a very large and unsafeable on the preventions. Some expectations are enteracted that the domestic exchange will improve in time to admit of a late trade before the winter reas in. We trust it may be no. The receipts of preduce may improve a se to admit of a fair country trade but we remark that the public stores of New York and Brooklyn, which were full of cereals this time last your, are now comparatively empty. The stock of breadstoffs is not accumulating as much for winter continuoption. Netteer banks now commission merchants can afford to make advances as they usually do on receipts of produce
